

American Alligator

Alligators and crocodiles are often confused. While the alligator's snout is typically broader and more blunt than the crocodiles, the best distinguishing characteristic is their teeth. The alligator's top teeth stick out over the lower teeth.

